Foreword

Once upon a time (so all good tales begin) in the days of satellites, missiles, and moon rockets, there came to the door of Brentsville District High School, in the town of Nokesville, located in the state of Virginia, a tiger cub called Brenton. He was welcomed by the one hundred fifty young men and women as befitted the mascot of their school. Brenton was free to wander the halls, curl up comfortably in their classes, cheer their teams or watch with a sleepy eye at their social affairs. In fact, no one could tell a more completely fascinating tale of the happenings of 1958 and 1959 at B. D. H. S. than Brenton, the tiger.

Here in the pages of THE FLASH the reader will see and hear with the eyes and ears of Brenton the tale of 1959 through -

Dedication

We, the Senior Class of Brentsville District High School, dedicate this--Brenton's tale of our activities for the '58-'59 school year - to our three coaches. Mrs. Dorothy Moore contributed time, effort, know-how, and enthusiasm to the building of a team with high standards of sportsmanship as well as the will to win.

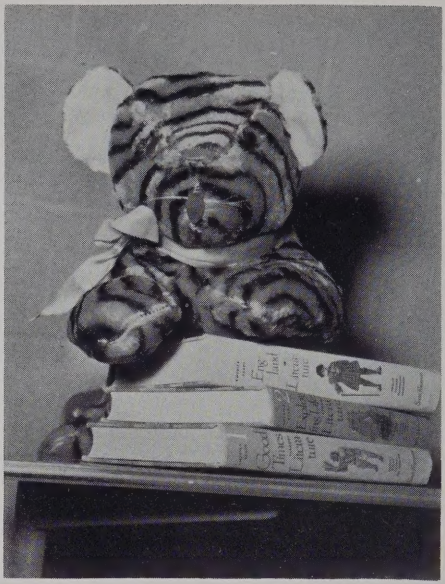
Coach Charles O. Calhoun, with his quiet dignity and insistance upon fair-play and gentlemanly conduct, accomplished much more than the score board would indicate with his Varsity Basketball boys, many of whom decided to make coaching their life work. This is indeed a tribute to the man and the job he did.

Coach Albert A. Hawkins did much to lay the groundwork for future success in athletics by training the J. V.'s. The baseball team was also his responsibility. A "peppy" straight shooter, he was admired and appreciated.

To these three directors of our athletic program, we proudly dedicate this our twenty-ninth edition of THE FLASH.

Brenton Presents

One of the most cherished moments of the school year is that time when the Junior class receives their school rings.



There is no more vital part of our school life than Brenton, our mascot.

Students must learn to do just about everything in Home Ec--even to refinish furniture.

The alumni, as well as students, enjoy the Christmas dance.

Our Activities

ALMA MATER
Hail to thee, our Nokesville High School,
Loyal, brave, and true,
We will sing our Alma Mater
And lift our hearts to you.

Onward, onward, ever faithful
True and loyal be
Like the mighty Bull Run Mountains,
Ever proud of thee.

As we tread her ivy portals,
Truth and faith arise,
We will lift our faces gently
Upward to the skies.

Kendall Cowne declares that a very important part of his school life is playing his saxophone in the band.

HONOR CREED

As a member of the Brentsville District High School, I will do my best:

1. To be honest in thought, word and deed.
2. To show respect for school property and equipment.
3. To exercise respect for authority and school regulations.
4. To conduct myself in such a manner that I may be an asset to my school.
5. To be courteous, friendly, and helpful to others.
6. To exercise good sportsmanship at home and away.
7. To practice habits of dependability and safety.
8. To make the most of opportunities through cooperation with the school program.

The church, too, plays a very important part in the affairs of our community.

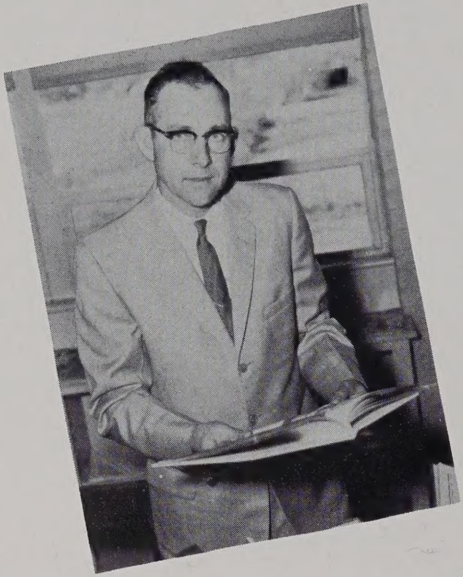
The Characters

These Are Our Administrators,



T. Clay Wood, for the past six years, has been Brentsville District's representative on the County School Board. He has indicated a deep and lasting interest in the welfare of both teachers and pupils, and in the improvement of school facilities. Concerned not only with the local situation but with the over-all advancement of education in Prince William County, Mr. Wood is a dedicated member of the board.

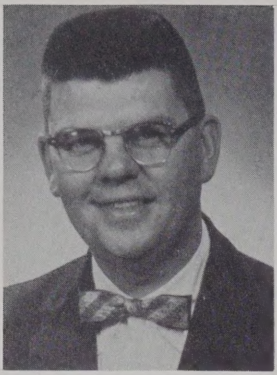
Stuart M. Beville, Superintendent of Prince William County Schools, has worked tirelessly to improve the educational system in his county since September, 1954, when he entered upon this position. His farsightedness, clear thinking, agreeable personality, and sincerity have won the respect of his co-workers, teachers, pupils, and the public. He has undertaken an extensive building program, expansion of educational services and steady improvement of the curriculum.

DISTRICT BOARD MEMBERS - Marion W. Dickens, Clerk; F.M. Lynn, Occoquan; Edith Latham, Gainesville; Stuart M. Beville, Superintendent; John F. Pattie, Chairman, Dumfries; T. Clay Wood, Brentsville; Dr. E. H. Marsteller, Manassas; and John M. Oleyar, Coles.

Our Principal,

D.C. Link, principal of the Brentsville District High School, has been directing the activities of our school since 1950. Many improvements have been secured for us and for our teachers through his numerous and untiring efforts. As administrator, advisor, and friend, he has added each year to the respect, honor and admiration held for him by members of the community and school.

Our Faculty Who



FRANCIS J. DALY

Mr. Daly, the jolly Irish potato, comes from Springfield, Massachusetts. His winning personality earns respect and admiration from all his students. He attended the American International College and the University of Miami where he carried off both BA and MA degrees. He is a great sports fan and likes to read. His greatest desire is to tour Europe. He is the sponsor ot the class plays, the Beta Club, and the Senior Class.

MRS. DOROTHY
S. MOORE

Mrs. Moore, our wonderful girls' coach, comes from Radford College where she received her BS degree. She is the instructor of physical education, health, and English. Her greatest ambition is to have her team come out first place in the District Tournament. She likes to play tennis and badminton. She sponsors J.V. basketball, Varsity basketball, and softball.

MISS JOAN
L. McCLAUGHERTY

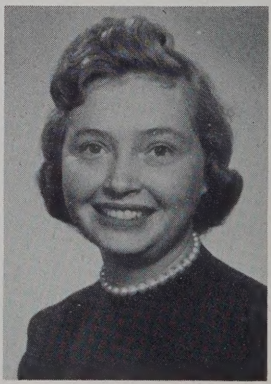
Miss McClaugherty - a very neat, attractive, and efficent young lady with home economics training - will make a good wife for some young man. She attended the University of Cincinnati and Radford College where she received a BS degree. Her Southern accent indicates she comes from Narrows, Virginia. Her hobbies are sewing and music. She is the sponsor of the F.H.A. Club, and teacher of home economics and English.

BRADFORD N. DOUGLAS

Mr. Douglas is the bashful, good-looking, bachelor of B.D.H.S. who is the instructor of vocational agriculture. He attended V.P.I. and obtained a BS degree. His hobby is sports; he plays baseball for the Catlett team during the summer. He lives at Catlett, and he has been a member of the faculty at B.D.H.S. for three years.

Miss Ethridge - Southern, peachy, and sweet - who hails from Red Oak, North Carolina, added variety to the faculty. She attended East Carolina College and obtained a BS degree. Her hobby is reading, and her ambition is to work for the government. She teaches the commercial courses, sponsors the BUZZER and the cheerleaders, and also keeps the Junior Class in order.

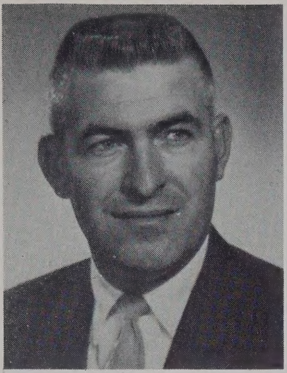
MISS JANICE
G. ETHRIDGE



WALTER T. CATON

Mr. Caton, the musically talented bachelor, is a new addition to B.D.H.S. this year. Mr. Caton instructs the A Capella Choir. He is master of many instruments. He attended the Shenandoah Conservatory of Music and Shepherd College where he received his BME degree. An accomplished violinist, he played a solo for his Commencement Exercises.

Teach and Guide Us,



CHARLES O. CALHOUN

Mr. Calhoun, with his "snazzy" crew cut is quite apparent in his favorite sweater, which is bright red. He has the respect and admiration of his students and co-workers. He attended the Fairmont State College and acquired his AB degree. He is the instructor of biology, health, and physical education. His fondest wish is that his team win a District Basketball Championship.

ALBERT A. HAWKINS

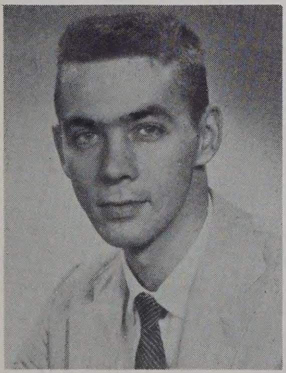
Mr. Hawkins - a good looking, curly haired gentleman - turned the female hearts when he came to B. D. H. S. two years ago. However, he was married so the girls were out of luck. He attended the University of Richmond and received his BA degree. He is from Boston, Virginia, and his hobby is sports. He is the sponsor of J. V. basketball, a school bus driver, and teacher of mathematics and science.

MISS HATTIE MAE PARTLOW

Miss Partlow, with her sweet and interesting personality and her love for her students, has been an admired member of the B. D. H. S. faculty for twelve years. She has shown her ability in both teaching and guidance. She attended Radford College and received her BS and BA degrees. She is the instructor of English, Latin, and guidance as well as sponsor of student government and the yearbook.

Mr. White - the tall, lean, handsome bachelor - has caused much disturbance among the feminine gender. A new member of the faculty this year, he hails from Roanoke, Virginia. He attended V. P. I. and Bridgewater College and obtained his BA and BW degrees. He teaches algebra, geometry, and chemistry. He also sponsors the F. T. A. His hobbies are sports cars and airplanes.

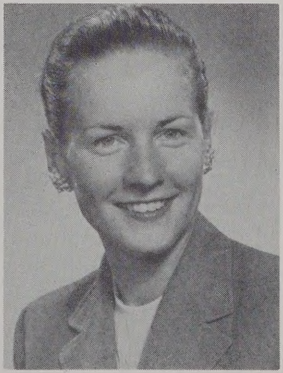
DAVID L. WHITE



MRS. MARY ELLEN MERCHANT

Mrs. Merchant has a very jolly spirit. She is loads of fun, but don't arouse her ire. She attended St. Mary's College where she earned her secretarial degree. Mrs. Merchant is originally from Gainesville, Virginia. Her hobby is sewing. At B. D. H. S. she is admired and respected for the wonderful job she is doing as secretary.

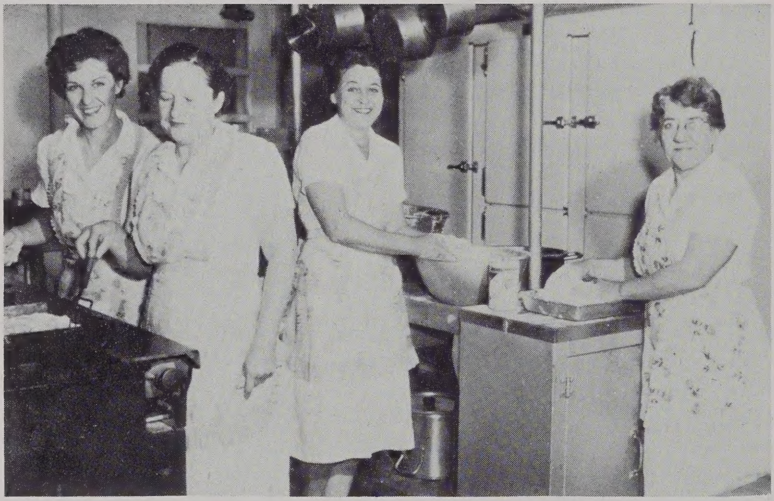
MRS. LUCY J. MURPHY



Mrs. Murphy has a neat appearance, and a radiant and glowing personality. She is the English instructor for the Eighth Grade, Freshmen and Sophomores. She does a wonderful job as school librarian, Library Club sponsor, and film coordinator. Her hobbies are flower gardening and reading. She attended William and Mary College where she obtained her BA degree.

And Our Maintenance Personnel.

Work, work, work--a janitor's job is never done. Casper Whetzel, a graduate of B. D. H. S., Robb Mayhugh, assistant janitor, do all this and more to keep our high school orderly and clean. The students, faculty, and other personnel are deeply grateful for the services they render.



Excellent, tempting dishes - our ladies in the cafeteria, Mrs. Echols, Mrs. Herring, Mrs. Kearnes, and Mrs. Irvin, prepare them. Feeding two-hundred hungry mouths a day is no easy chore, but the haunting odor of good cooking drifts through the halls every day around lunch time, calling the students to the nourishing meals that await them.

Would you envy a person who has to cope with unreasonable "demons" while trying to maneuver a bus on its route? No? Then these stalwart guardians of the road deserve respect for their tireless efforts to bring pupils to school safely. The school is proud to have such safe drivers as Mr. Marshall, Mr. Bowman, Mr. Hawkins, and Mr. Herring.

The Class of '59 Will Be Remembered . . .

SHELBY JEAN BLANKENSHIP

A transfer from Narrows High School, Shelby took great pride in her work. An active F. H. A. member, she served as their very capable treasurer. Her soprano voice contributed to the Glee Club, and her persistence in collecting funds for Junior Red Cross was noteworthy.

J. V. basketball interested Shelby early in her high school career, but later she chose to be score keeper for her team.

Always dependable, she took considerable interest in any projects of her class among those being publication of the Buzzer and The Flash and the staging of the class plays.

As a service to her school, she acted as ice cream salesman and lunchroom chairman.

Shelby found for herself a place in the world of work and gained valuable experience with the telephone company.

MILDRED MARIE BOLT

In search of a good secretary? Mildred Bolt can fill the bill with her commercial training and her sweet, gentle personality. She has been active in every organization of any merit at her beloved Alma Mater. She can take shorthand and type like a buzz saw. The Future Homemakers of America are indebted to her for her services as their Reporter and Treasurer.

Mildred would make a wonderful Congress-woman as she has represented the school as a County Federation Senator and a delegate to the S. C. A. State Convention. Whether it be homemaker, secretary, lawyer, or member of Congress, Mildred has the incentive to succeed as she has so ably indicated in her high school days.

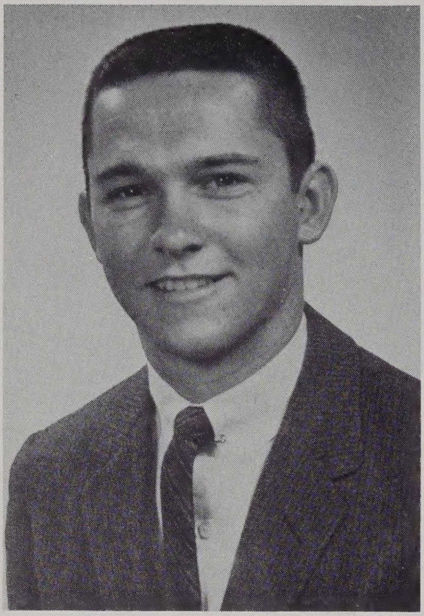
NOREITA VESTA BOWERS

Looking for a good cook? You need go no further than tall, blonde, busy Noreita. For four years she has been an active F.H.A. member advancing from reporter and treasurer to president of the chapter. Each year her garments have been exhibited in the fashion shows; and as a Junior, she participated in the Pillsbury Contest.

Eager to serve without thought of reward, Noreita has sold ice cream for the school, kept time on the score board for the basketball team, arranged school socials and served on patrol.

As a member of the Student Council, she helped organize the handbook published for the first time in 1958. Her interest also extended to publications such as the Buzzer and the yearbook for which she was Feature Editor. A dependable helper and an interested student was our Noreita.

As Active Participants in the S.C.A.,



WARREN LEE CARTER

Rarely is there a person who can combine the ability to play excellent J. V. and varsity basketball or run good track with the arts to the extent Warren does. His fine quality voice is heard in both Glee Club and A Capella Choir.

Interest in sports and music in no way decreases his application to serious study or his devotion to his responsibilities as president of the Student Council. During his term of office, the first student handbook was published, and B.D.H.S. students first attended the district safety council.

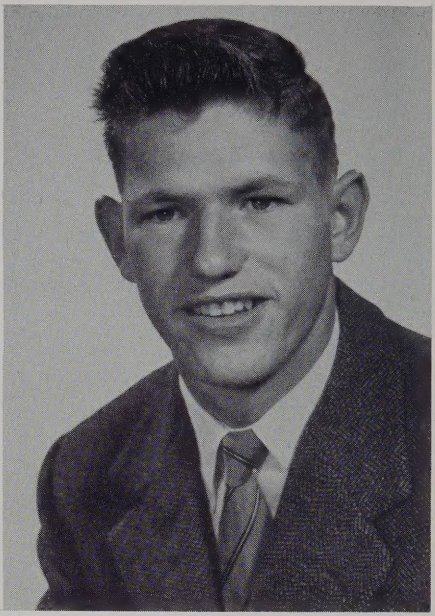
Training for the position of president was acquired as treasurer of the Sophomore Class, vice-president of the Athletic Association, editor of the Buzzer, vice-president of the S. C. A. and drum major of the Band. Varied has been his experience in leadership, and varied have been his interests and abilities.

MAUDINE CLAYBORN

Maudine Clayborn, happy winner of the F.H.A. Talent Show, in her junior year attended the Youth Forum and participated in the Junior play. She was a delegate to the Southern Association of Student Councils in November; and at Christmas, she was second place winner in the annual Susie Snowflake Contest

Dignified and composed, Maudine did well as a public speaker and as a secretary. Attractive and aimable, she is one of the twins among the Seniors.

With her rosy cheeks rosier than ever, she had a most eventful senior year. To prove this she was faculty editor of the annual, a participant in the fashion show, song leader in F.H.A., a member of the social and lunchroom committees and a member of the Library Club.



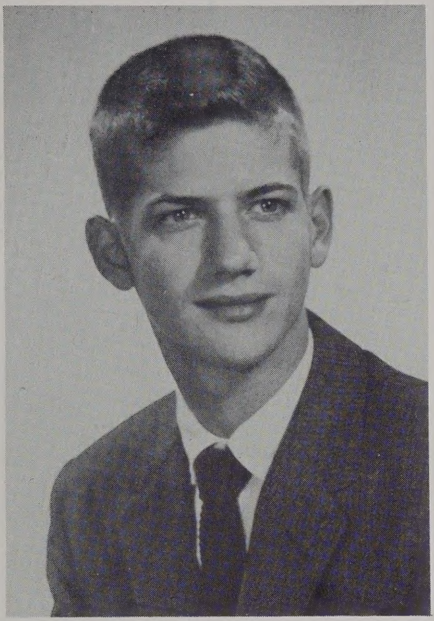
GENE WAYNE CONNER

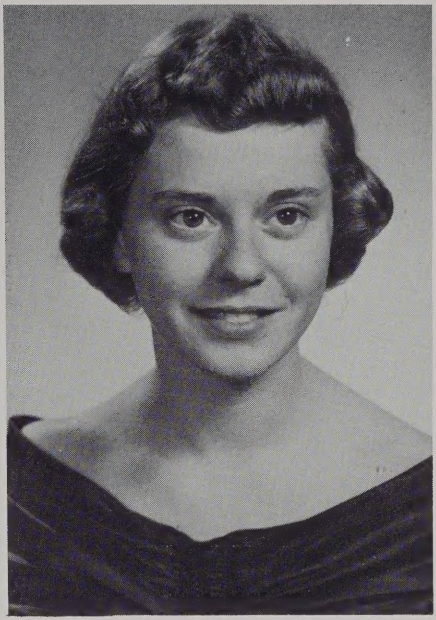
Gene is a true Old Virginian and an experienced woodsman. You may at any time see him in his beloved forest seeking his exciting adventures. He is the only boy in this, the Senior Class, to have bagged a deer.

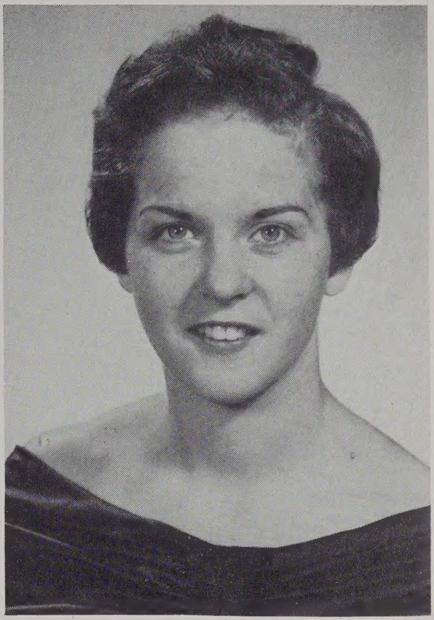
Gene has been very active supporting, as his secondary interest, the Future Farmers of America. His ability to draw well has earned for him the position of art editor of the B. D. Buzzer and The Flash.

Gene has, as many a woodsman has had, the will to push on and help his fellow citizens. He has served with his brawny arm the gallant cause of the Keep Virginia Green Campaign. He believes in the preservation of what we have, a noble desire of every such nature loving person.

As Victors on the Athletic Field,







GEORGE KENDALL COWNE

This tall, lanky senior was one of Nokesville's best centers on the Varsity Basketball team. His interest and success in the game were the incentives that led him on to play J. V. and later varsity basketball. Baseball was another sport that took Kendall's fancy. This, too, he excelled in.

F.F.A. was another field of special endeavor, Dairy and Forestry judging being of prime interest to him.

Playing the saxophone in the Band was one of the ways he showed his versatility. Besides being active in sports, agriculture, and music, Kendall gave his services to the student government and to the Junior class in its play.

College bound, Kendall plans to study dairy husbandry and to develop his interest in F. F. A. into a life work.

REBECCA ANN EARHART

Cute, pert, and studious, Rebecca Earhart has represented her school in numerous fields ranging from basketball player to delegate to the F. T. A. Convention. She possesses the true characteristics of unequaled leadership proven by her knack for gaining her classmates' respect and trust.

Being an honor roll student, Rebecca is a pleasure to her teachers and a credit to her community.

Having been the backbone of the annual staff, she carried the grave responsibility of planning for, organizing, and meeting the deadlines with a minimum of friction and loss of time or effort.

Rebecca will certainly achieve her daily and lifetime goals, for she gives herself unselfishly to promote worthy projects whether for the Student Council, music department, the school teams, the class plays, or student publications.

Tolerant, considerate, capable and always very busy was Rebecca, student choice for most outstanding personality of the class.

RUTH ELLON GOUGH

Ruth is a "sharp" looking, young lady who is usually quite composed, unless something amuses her. She has contributed greatly to our school. She displayed her talents in basketball, winning fame for herself and her school. Her voice has been an addition to the Glee Club, and her originals have been modeled in the fashion shows.

Aside from being interested in sports and clubs, Ruth found time to take an active part in the Junior play, and to participate in publishing the school paper. She also put forth great effort as girls' Sports' Editor for the annual.

Ruth will make a success of whatever she attempts because of her varied interests and lively nature.

As Chefs in Home Economics,

LAURA ELIZABETH GRAY

Betty Lou was a petite attractive miss most interested in music. For four years she sang alto in the Glee Club. She was also a member of the A Capella Choir and played the clarinet in the band for three years.

She was vice-president of the Junior Class and a member of the Student Council. As Social Chairman, she made the old gymnasium blaze with lights and color and rock with the dancing feet of the teen-agers. Again as Program Chairman, she entertained, inspired and instructed the students in her assembly programs.

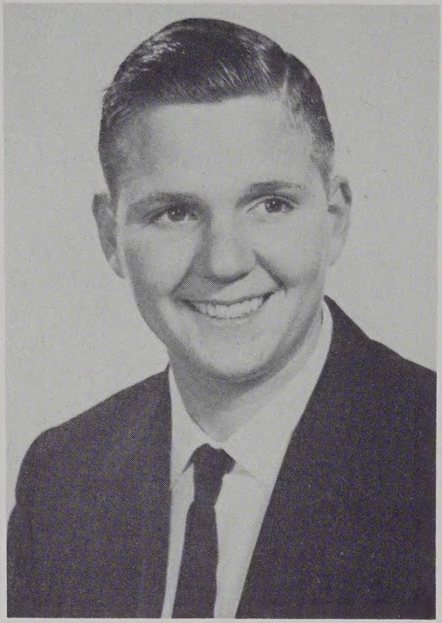
As for scholarship, Betty Lou rated among the first though she found time for activities of the yearbook, the Sodalitas Latina, the classes especially their plays, and the school newspaper.



GEORGE DOUGLAS GRAY, JR.

A bit on the portly side, George enjoyed nothing more than a good steak dinner. A nature lover, especially of animal and plant life, he showed much of the pioneer instinct. Early in his life he decided to become a doctor and dedicate his services to the sick or injured.

A persistent person, George was a good choice for Class Editor of the yearbook; it requires such a trait to collect a hundred or more pictures from forgetful individuals.

George also liked to write a bit as displayed in his column "nosy" in the Buzzer. As a crook in the Junior play, he foiled everyone until the last act.

Deliberate, mild-mannered, well dressed George foreshadows the kindly doctor with the pleasant bedside manner who will answer calls in 1970.

SPICER STERLING KEYS

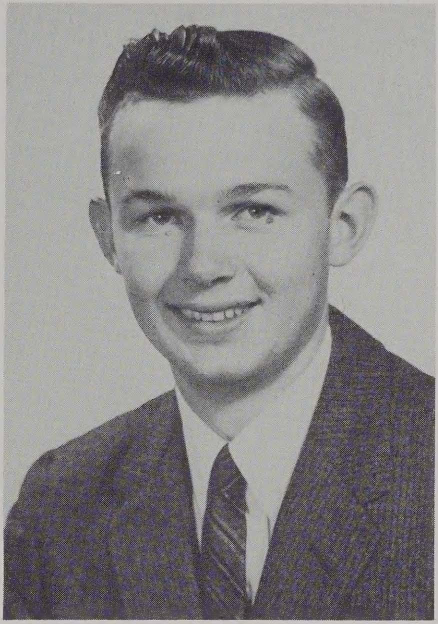
Take a pinch of humor, a cup of unused vocabulary words, a generous sprinkling of interest in athletics, farming, hunting and writing; combine these with a wry smile, a bit of shyness, a stocky build and a love for taking life easy, and you have Spicer Keys.

He is a baseball fan and catcher on the school team. As an F. F. A. member, he knows his trees and beef cattle having participated on both judging teams.

He loves the out-of-doors and is a member of the Keep Virginia Green organization. As a collector of old guns, he is the envy of others with a like interest; his collection now numbers twelve.

With his knack of creating a "neat" caption, Spicer has been an invaluable member of the yearbook staff.

As Apprentices in Agriculture,



CHARLES SPENCER LEE

Charlie is the irreplaceable lady killer of the class. He has women everywhere! Aside from his romantic interlude, he has participated energetically in school government. Sophomore Class president, Junior Class president and vice-president of the Senior Class were only a few of the ways he served the student body. As a student Council member for three years, Charlie gained the knowledge necessary to represent B. D. H. S. at the district and later at the State Convention of the S. C. A. Charlie was also chosen to attend the Southern Association of Student Councils because of his wit and pleasing manner which won for him his popularity. He served as a Senator for two years and a delegate to the Youth Forum.

He participated in basketball, baseball, bus patrol and the Junior Play, as well as in F. F. A., K. V. G., the Buzzer staff and the annual.

CLYDE MASSOLETTI LOMAX

A transfer from Fauquier County, Clyde proved to be a valuable addition to B. D. H. S. In the tractor driving contests, he was most skillful; and as a judge of dairy cattle, he represented his chapter with a high score. As a result of his interest and active participation in F. F. A., he was chosen as delegate to the State and National F. F. A. Conventions.

Clyde's record is a long and busy one including K. V. G., forestry judging, beef judging, photographer's assistant for the annual, participation in the class plays and work on the school newspaper.

The climax of Clyde's experiences in school came with his week's stay in Kansas City as representative of the local F. F. A. chapter at the National Convention. Quoting Clyde, "I had a 'swell' time, and I wish I could have stayed."

CLARA MAE NEWLAND

Clara, efficient and business like, kept the "devils" straight as bus patrolman. Picking up the fundamentals of homemaking quickly, she excelled as an F. H. A. club member and in the Pillsbury Contest. She also proudly displayed her needle work in each year's fashion show. Her work in this regard was rewarded, when in the spring of 1958, she was chosen to represent her classmates at the State F. H. A. Convention at the Hotel Roanoke.

Though her first interest was home economics, Clara sang in the Glee Club, acted as ice cream salesman, participated in the Library Club and typed for the yearbook.

Sympathetic and kind, Clara always had a helping hand for those less fortunate. She set high goals for herself and worked tirelessly to reach them.

And as Students.

TINA JOHNSON PARSONS

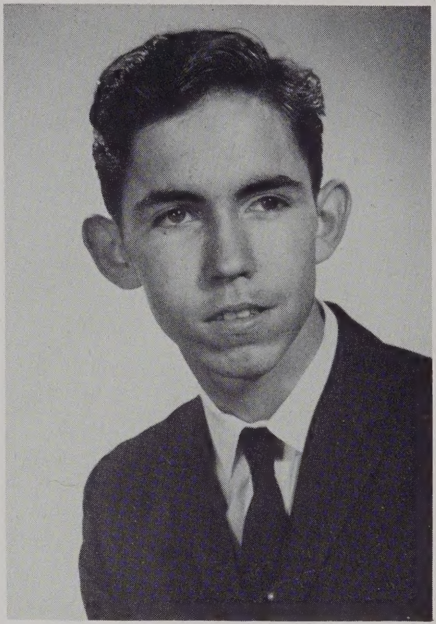
Tina Parsons is a true world citizen whose exploits in our school as well as in many schools all around the globe should not go unmentioned.

Her worthy ambition is to become a nurse. Knowing Tina, she will probably have to contend with many supposedly sick admirers!

Being a vigorous competitor, she participated in numerous athletic events, such as archery, softball, tennis and swimming to name only a few.

Tina took upon herself the responsibilities of the assistant treasurer of her class as well as the responsibility of program chairman of the Latin Club.

Her vast store of knowledge and her varied experiences, ably supported by her boundless energy and enthusiasm, foreshadow an outstanding career in the world of healing.



LEWIS WADE RANDALL

"Wit is a prime requisite for a keen mind".
If this saying is true, then Wade has an extremely keen mind, for his spontaneous sayings are sure to bring a chuckle if not a loud guffaw.

Wade has tried his hand at various activities, F.F.A., Keep Virginia Green, J. V. basketball, the Buzzer staff and the Junior play being a few of them.

The flash of bulbs and the click of cameras followed him while he gathered people together for their pictures in the annual.

His witty remarks and charming manner won many friends for Wade, and his famous, "Well... now," will long be remembered by his classmates and his teachers for many years to come.

ALICE FAYE RITENOUR

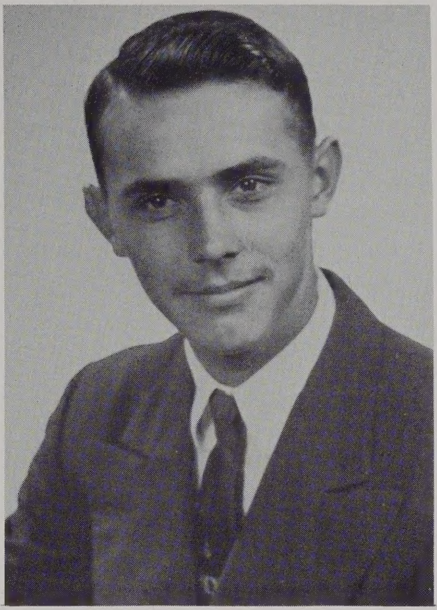
Alice Ritenour - though small, quiet, and unassuming - took part in numerous school activities. Always on the job at the ice cream stand, she served tiny tots as well as teen-agers or teachers with the same courtesy and consideration.

She entered the F.H.A. fashion shows and modeled garments sewed with care and patience. Since Alice had no "yen" for being an actress, she contributed considerably to the success of the Junior play as prompter and publicity manager.

As a typist for the yearbook staff, she typed, retyped, and typed some more in order that the annual copy might be exactly as each editor desired it.

A loyal friend and an excellent follower, she cooperated with seriousness and pride in any project the class undertook.

Each Had a Part to Play



DONALD VAN STEENBURG

Donald managed to survive the harrowing initiation of the F. F. A. and went on to become one of the most active members. As treasurer in his Junior year and president as a Senior, he furnished stable leadership for the organization.

A sportsman, he participated in basketball, baseball and track; he was honored by being chosen a member of the All-County Basketball Team.

Being one of the "cute" boys in class, he represented the Sophomores on the May Court. As Senior president, he directed the activities of that very cooperative and busy class.

Chosen business manager for the yearbook, he effectively persuaded the merchants to support the project and kept the staff "out of the red."

Councilman, patrolman, newsman, actor, athlete, farmer, or business man, make your choice and you have Donald Steenburgh.

RICHARD THOMAS THEIMER

Richard is a tall, dark, wary chap who is very apt at playing basketball; likewise, he is a hero on the mound as the team's best pitcher.

Through all his athletic activities, Richard has found time for considerable interest in the Future Farmers of America. He served on the F. F. A. Forestry Judging Crew with his very capable assistants. He helped with the Junior play and intends to keep his courteous manner in the Senior play.

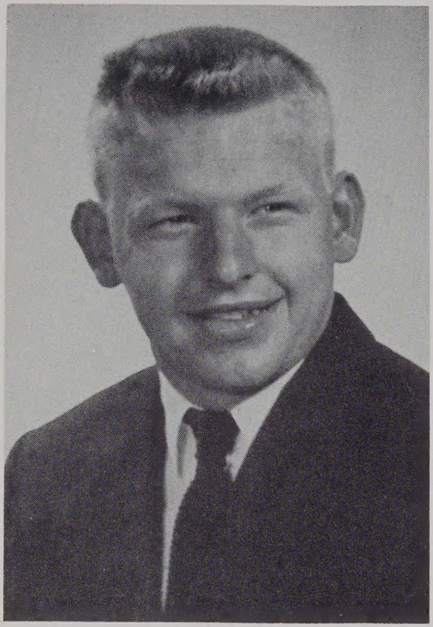
Richard has quite a talent in his long sinewy finger tips; he is artistic, athletic and good natured. Richard has given his time as the able and willing art editor of the annual.

ELEANOR HUGHSON TROUT

Eleanor Trout was a colorful lass of Scotch-Irish descent, as indicated by her dazzling red hair. She displayed her ability and charm principally in the musical and business fields. Her fine alto voice added to the Glee Club and A Capella Choir, and she was a flag bearer for the Band.

Eleanor displayed her talents both as a seamstress and model in several fashion shows. Her attention also wandered into the newspaper field. She served on the Buzzer staff and as reporter for the Journal Messenger. Because of her dependability and popularity, she was elected as senator for the S. C. A. Federation, class treasurer and assistant business manager of the annual. Besides all of her other jobs, Eleanor found time to participate in the Junior play and to maintain a good scholastic rating.

In Making His Class a Success.



CHARLES THOMAS WEBB

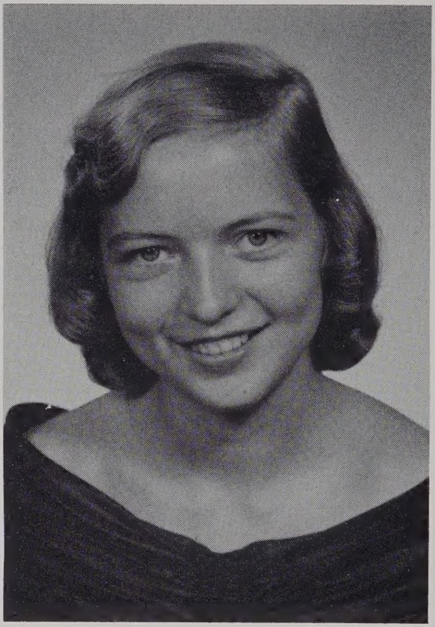
Charles comes to us from Dublin, Virginia. In Dublin High School he was very active in Hi-Y being one of their most dedicated members. Charles offers his membership in the Beta Club, which is the honor society of Dublin High School, as proof that he is able to maintain good grades. His grades at B. D. H. S. are excellent.

A baseball fan, he likes to play in the infield, but he is quite capable of being an excellent outfielder.

The F. F. A. and K. V. G. occupied much of Charles' time as well as the student council and stamp collecting.

At the District Safety Council held in Manassas, he ably represented his school.

A quiet, industrious blond with a wry smile, Charles won the affection and admiration of teachers and pupils alike in his new school.



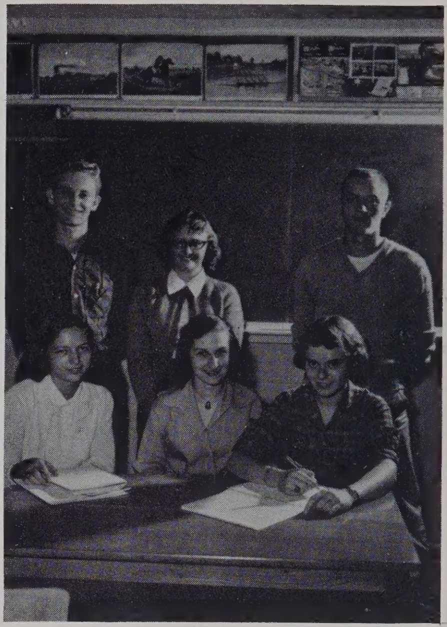
MARY EDITH WOOD

Rarely is there a girl so versatile and adept at sports; Mary, with very capable hands, scored brilliantly in both J. V. and varsity basketball. She can boast of being one chosen for the All-County Team. Softball, too, is a special interest. Pitching and hitting successfully, she has helped her team win.

Aside from sports, Mary's interests run to homemaking. In F. H. A., she participated actively, serving as song-leader, secretary, and vice-president. The fashion show, also, received much of her attention.

Good, too, in music, Band, Glee Club, and A Capella Choir owe much to her skill in playing the trumpet and her lovely soprano.

Furthermore, Mary has been class treasurer, Senior Editor of the annual, lunchroom chairman, Glee Club librarian and secretary, patrolman, ice cream salesman and member of the Buzzer staff. She participated in the Junior play, attended the Youth Forum and served on the Student Council.



CLASS OFFICERS

The officials of the Senior class, have been carefully selected on the basis of their former achievements, and their personalities. Because of the speeches that are expected of the president and his previous training in leadership, the class chose Donald Steenburgh with Charles Lee as vice-president.

Rebecca Earhart, an experienced secretary, filled that position; however, one of the biggest jobs among Seniors is that of treasurer. The class chose Mary Wood who had to "drag" the unpaid dues out of reluctant Seniors; collect the money for the caps and gowns, invitations and calling cards; and manage the expenses of the senior trip. Tina Parsons was appointed her assistant.

Collecting and editing class news was no little task, but it was one for which Betty Lou Gray was well suited.

Altogether, the leadership of the class of '59 was superior, and the membership was grateful.

The S.C.A. is composed of all members of the student body in grades eight through twelve. The executive officers and council give direction to all student activities. They sponsor a variety of programs for the benefit of the school; they cooperate with community agencies, and they are responsible for maintaining a high standard of conduct among the students. The chief project for 1958 was the publication of the first handbook. Other activities include the orientation program with the big brother, little brother arrangement; the socials and sock hops after home ball games; and welfare projects including providing material for an exchange teacher in Greece.

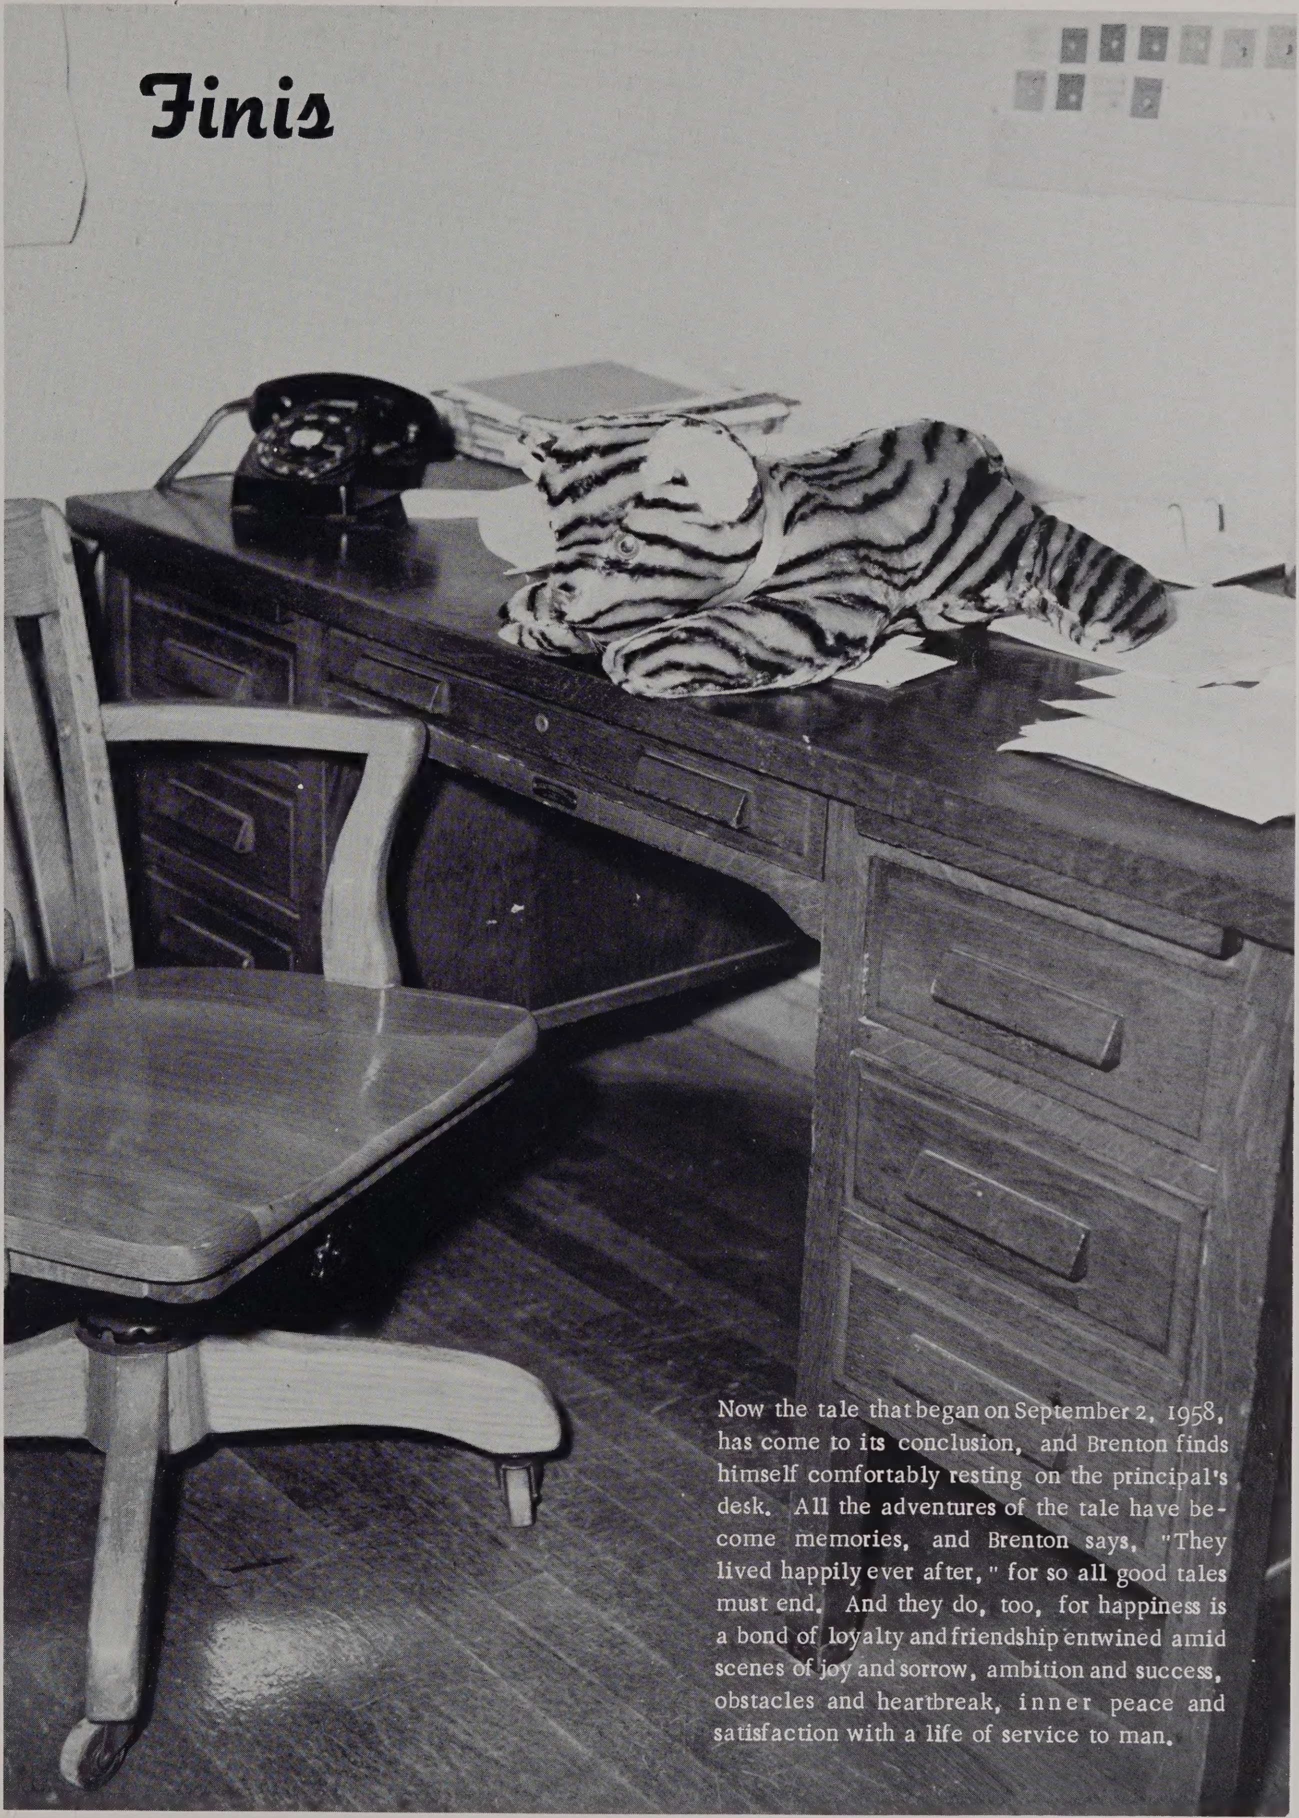
Finis



Now the tale that began on September 2, 1958, has come to its conclusion, and Brenton finds himself comfortably resting on the principal's desk. All the adventures of the tale have become memories, and Brenton says, "They lived happily ever after," for so all good tales must end. And they do, too, for happiness is a bond of loyalty and friendship entwined amid scenes of joy and sorrow, ambition and success, obstacles and heartbreak, inner peace and satisfaction with a life of service to man.

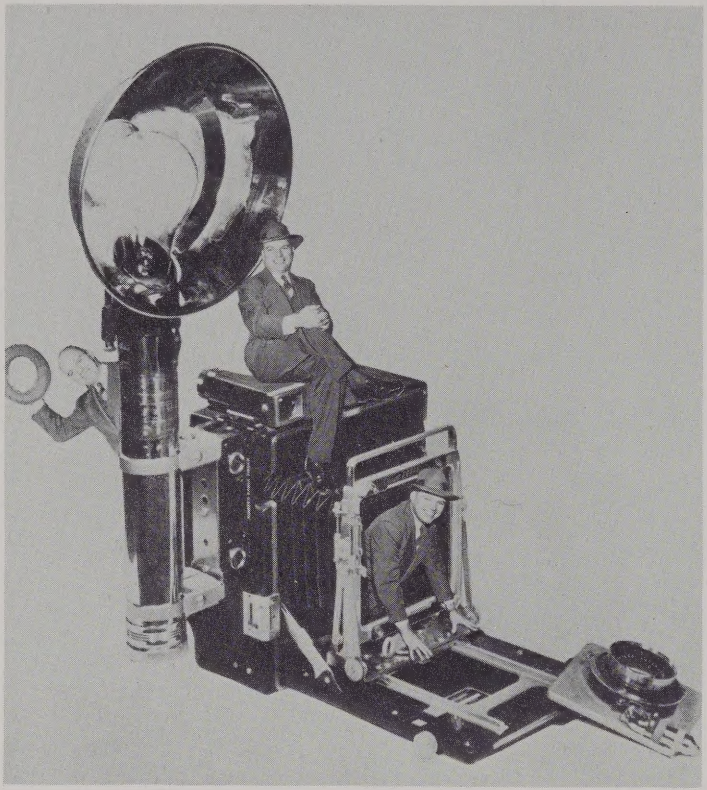
THE SENIORS



An Appreciation

As we come to the final page in Brenton's tale of the year 1959 at Brentsville District High School, we cannot close the book without a word of appreciation to those who have made our book possible. Above you will see a picture of our loyal photographer who has made the story of our life possible both financially and graphically. Never have we missed a deadline because pictures were unavailable or late. Thank you, Mr. Churchill.

Another friend who was always on hand to settle arguments about covers or the best layout for a page was Mr. Neill Watson, representative of the Myers Yearbook Company. Our sponsor and the staff are extremely grateful for his personal interest, his practical advice, and his accessible guidance. Thank you too, Mr. Watson, for coming when we called.

Then in closing, we have a deep and lasting feeling of appreciation to our patrons and advertisers who, year after year, help finance our yearbook with ads, sponsorships, and support of money-making activities.
